ROOP FAMILY

In September 1927 the first general reunion of the Roop family and their friends was held at Meadow Branch church, near Westminster, Maryland. At this gathering an outline of the family history was given and a desire was expressed for a more complete history.

At the reunion of 1930 the historian was authorized to gather and publish a pamphlet containing such information as he could procure.

This information was gathered from different sources, such as the Royer History by Francis, and a pamphlet written by the late Lydia Roop Woodward and her uncle, the late Samuel Roop, and also from many older members of the family now living.

The name of Roop is of German origin and was spelled many ways. Professor Rupp in his "30,000 Names" says Roop was spelled Rubb, Rupe, Rupp, Roupe, Rube, Raupp, Rub. Before the Roops moved to Maryland, the name was spelled Rupp. It was afterward changed to Roop by an English schoolmaster.

The family of Roop from which we descended originally came from Singheim in Baden, Germany. They belonged to the Reformed Church when they came from Germany, although some of them seemed to be affiliated with the Mennonites. When they came to Maryland, they apparently had joined the German Baptist or Brethren Church in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, because they were some of the founders of the Brethren church at Pipe Creek, Beaver Dam and Meadow Branch.

Their ancestor was a Burgess of Grossbergog in the Grand Duchy of Baden. One of the family was beheaded during the Thirty Years War.

We learn from the second series of Penn Archives Volume 17, that Jahannes and Christian Rupp landed at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, about 1750. The latter is the immediate ancestor of the branch of the Roop family herein referred to. The two brothers settled in Earl township, Lancaster county, Pennsylvania. They procured a farm of 298 acres, which they later divided in equal parts, each taking half.

This history will consist only of the descendants of Christian Roop who came to Maryland, namely, Joseph, Christian, David, John and Anna.

EXPLANATION

Figures placed to the left of each name denote the number of that individual in line, and the letter the generation to which he belongs.

D. 1828		D. 1853

The legend is told that Joseph left Lancaster County to escape entering the Army of the American Revolution, and came down into Maryland, near Uniontown, and there met Mary Nofsinger. He went back to Pennsylvania when it was safe for him to return and later on came back to Maryland and married the damsel he had fallen in love with on his former trip. They started housekeeping at the home of his wife, which is one of the farms now owned by one of his descendants, namely, Mrs. Annie Roop Stoner. This place is very near to Pipe Creek Brethren church and he and his family were some of the early members of this church.

CATHERINE ROYER

(Daughter of III Daniel Royer)

B. 1776
D. 1835

He came to Maryland in 1795 and settled at Meadow Branch near Westminster. He married as his second wife a widow Geiman, the mother of his son, David's, wife. He bought a farm of three hundred acres and built a mill on the property across the road from his log house. The mill and a part of the farm he left to his son David and the rest of the home farm to his youngest son, John. Both John and his wife were members of the Church of the Brethren and they donated part of the ground that is used for the present Meadow Branch cemetery. The Roops have constituted one of the strong families of the Meadow Branch church and the present Elder William E. Roop is a direct descendant of the above John and Catherine.

B10 ANNAB. 1776
D. 1858

m.

PETER ROYER

(Son of III Peter Royer and first cousin of Catherine Royer, wife of John)

B. 1775
D. 1842

They came to Maryland in 1800 and settled near Westminster on what is known as the Royer homestead, which is near Meadow Branch church, and is the farm now owned by the Ira Young estate. They, like the Roops, gave part of the land for the Meadow Branch cemetery and in the later years of their life were baptized on the same day and joined the Church of the Brethren. Ever since, the Royers have been very prominently identified with the church of that place.

B11 ABRAHAM

m.

ELIZABETH KURTZ

They lived and died on the home place in Lancaster County and some of their descendants remain there at the present time.

DAVID ROOP OF KEYSVILLE

A brief history of David Roop, a school teacher and surveyor, who lived and died on a farm at Keysville, Carroll county, Maryland.

He was a son of David Roop, who lived on Beaver Dam and was buried in a private burying ground near where Beaver Dam branch empties into Little Pipe Creek. David must have been a very studious boy as he began teaching school when eighteen years old. At the age of sixteen years, March 28, 1821, he began copying his arithmetic examples, worked out in full in ink, on foolscap paper. These problems cover every known rule in mathematics, including single and double rules of three and Vulgar fractions. The writer is in possession of this book which is more than one inch thick and is sewed together with heavy harness wax-end threads with a strip of leather. The writer also has his school registers from 1835 to 1869, containing list of scholars at Keysville, Shaws (Clear View), Krises, Rocky Ridge, Woodsboro, and Priestland. While teaching he studied surveying and would make no charge for his surveying for the first three years. He was most accurate in his work and a beautiful writer, his platting and deed writing were models of neatness and beauty. He was a typical Roop, short and stout. He was a perfect gentleman, dignified and reserved. His English was perfect and his articulation was equal to Dr. Fosdic's. He married Susan Alice Grimes and they had seven children. He was also County Surveyor of Frederick County.

PETER BAILE of NEW WINDSOR, MD.

PETER BAILE: 1747-1829.

CATHERINE HAINES: 1761-1825 (??-See tombstone inscription).
"PETER BAILE, Our First Ancestor.

It is not possible for us to go back further than Peter Baile, hence I have referred to him as our first ancestor. Our history is so meager, so little being really known and so much left to conjecture that we must be content to begin with this noble man, who though but a bound boy lived and achieved and became a respected citizen, a good father, and, dying, left behind a record of which to be proud.

Peter Baile was born in the year 1747 and died May 21, 1829, aged 82 years. When but a young lad, he, with his parents and sister embarked on a sailing vessel from Germany, bound for America. His parents dying en route, young Baile was taken by the Nicodemus family and raised by them in Maryland, not far from the village of New Windsor. Of the sister all trace has been lost.

At his death Peter Baile was possessed of a considerable fortune which was distributed among his eleven children. See copy of will (herewith).

The original stone house still stands and is in the possession of a descendant of Peter Baile. Every latch and nail in this house was made by Peter Baile himself and the stone of which the house is constructed was carried in his leather apron, he being carpenter and mason.

Close to the old stone house is the family burying-ground where stands the gray stone inscribed with the above dates, - and where a number of his family lies.
